HUGE DIRIGIBLE FALLS

Many Reported Killed In Disaster

CRAFT EXPLODES AND BURNS; TRAPS THE PASSENGERS

PORTSMOUTH, VA., Feb. 21—Belief that 35 or 40 bodies still were pinned under the wreckage of the giant airship Roma, which exploded over the Hampton Roads army base this afternoon, was expressed by officials of the United States public health service, which has taken charge of the disposal of the bodies and the rescue of the men pinned under the debris. Ten men have been taken to the hospital at the army base, the health service announced.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—The navy department was notified of the disaster in the following telegram from the naval authorities at Norfolk:

"Army dirigible Roma caught fire and fell to ground near army base Norfolk about 2.10 p. m., 35 persons reported dead out of 50 aboard."

NORFOLK, VA., Feb. 21—Exploding after crashing downward during a trial flight, the army's Italian-built airship Roma was destroyed today near the naval base here with the loss of an undetermined number of lives.

Estimates an hour and a half after the disaster placed the dead from half a dozen to nearly 40 out of the more than half a hundred persons on board.

The naval hospital at Portsmouth was officially informed that 38 of those aboard the airship, the largest semi-rigid dirigible in the world, were killed, while undertakers in Newport News were officially notified that thirty or more persons had lost their lives.

It was officially announced at the army base at 3:40 o'clock that only ten survivors have been rescued from the wreckage of the Roma. Eight are seriously injured and two slightly. All are in nearby hospitals.

The Roma was between 600 and 1,000 feet in the air, when she fell, officers at the Hampton Roads naval base stated. Some of the passengers aboard the ship were virtually unhurt, though all were shaken up. A number of the men jumped from the cars of the Roma as she fell. Others were caught under her and these, it is believed, were killed almost instantly.

Among the definitely known survivors were Captain Walter J. Reed and Lieutenant Byron G. Burt, the official pilots of the Roma, and J. M. Biedenbach and Vernon Peak, engineers.

The Roma was placed in commission only several weeks ago after having been assembled at Langley field. She was the largest dirigible owned by the United States government and was purchased from Italy. Her mammoth gas bag had a capacity of more than a million cubic feet.

The heat of the flames was so intense that those near where the craft fell were unable to approach.

The four men rescued were badly burned. Reports from Portsmouth, which is near the naval base, said the Roma after a slanting plunge of hundreds of feet struck one of the barracks buildings at the base and then exploded with a ripping crash. A sheet of flame leaped from the rent in the gas bag and the passenger compartments slung underneath dropped twenty feet to the ground below.

Other officials at Langley field said there were 21 men in the official crew of the airship and 30 or 40 passengers and enlisted men aboard. One man was seen by observers at the Standard Oil Company plant at Sewell's Point to jump from the ship while she still was several hundred feet in the air.

The Roma, which was the largest semi-rigid airship in the world, was sailing in a southeasterly direction, when, according to observers, she suddenly burst into flames and fell like a comet to the earth. The explosion occurred shortly after 2 o'clock.

Fourteen men, according to other observers at Portsmouth, were seen to leap from the ship as it became apparent that she would strike one of the naval base barracks buildings. Some, it was reported, clung to parachutes, while others jumped straight to the ground, choosing to take their chance in that manner, rather than staying aboard the blazing ship.

Witnesses at the scene of the burning ship said that at three o'clock when she still was burning like a furnace that fully half a dozen men were pinned beneath the wreckage. The body of one man had been removed up to that time.

Guns Turned On Strikers; Cavalry Patrols Streets

PAWTUCKET, R. I., February 21.—(By the Associated Press)—One man was killed, two were seriously wounded and six persons were hurt when the police used riot guns today on a crowd of 1,000 persons who gathered at the plant of the Jencks Spinning Company, where a strike is in progress. The guns were brought into play when several patrolmen had been knocked down after the arrest of three strike sympathizers.

The dead man is Juan D'Assumpcao, of Valleyfalls, Joseph Diaz and Tony Regoss, of this city, were taken to a hospital in a critical condition.

Mayor Saw Shooting
Mayor Robert A. Kenyon witnessed the shooting. He had arrived at the gates of the plant early in the morning to observe the crowd that has customarily gathered to watch working operatives enter the mill. The mayor, believing that there was danger in the crowd, read the riot act. He then told the patrolmen to be careful and calm, but to do their duty, and to "shoot if necessary."

Women Pulled and Mauled Girls
Meanwhile, women were pulling and mauling at the girls who were attempting to enter the mill and several of the workers were knocked to the pavement. The police put their shoulders to the crowd and were countered with fist and club blows. Three patrolmen were knocked down and the arrests followed.

Stone Patrol Wagon
A jassing furniture van was commandeered by the police to serve as a patrol wagon, but when the patrolmen attempted to hustle their prisoners aboard it, they were met with a bombardment of stones. Then riot guns swept the crowd. Eight persons fell, all but two of whom got up and ran away. The crowd dispersed.

The eighth coast artillery company, which was mobilized in the state army last night for possible duty in connection with strike riots, left the armory at 6:30 a. m. today. Its destination was not made public.

The disturbance at the Jencks plant occurred after the departure of the troops.

Cavalry Patrols Village
PROVIDENCE, R. I., February 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Two troops of state cavalry today patrolled the mill village of Pontiac, ten miles south of here, where strike cotton operatives yesterday besieged the mill and office of the B. B. & F. Knight Company.

Two demonstrations occurred yesterday at the plant of the Jencks Spinning Company in Pawtucket. Four arrests were made.

Mill Office Wrecked
The troops dispatched to Pontiac were billeted in the Knight mills, the office of which was wrecked by a mob late yesterday.

Major Ball, commanding the troops, ordered every one to retire to their homes, closed Main street to traffic and sent a detail to see that the streets were kept cleared. There was no opposition to the movement of the troops.

Strikers Jam Streets
NATICK, R. I., February 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Striking textile workers and sympathizers jammed the streets of this village today waving small American flags, but preserving silence. Meanwhile, mounted cavalry troops and police kept strict patrol forcing the throngs to keep moving.

Appear In Knickers; Are Expelled
PATERSON, N. J., February 21.—(By the Associated Press)—War further to safeguard advancing prerogatives of the female—specifically, the right to wear knickerbockers where and when they please—loomed in Paterson today. John Lyle, a traveling salesman, was preparing to storm the board of education to compel local high school authorities to permit his daughter to attend classes in the objectionable apparel.

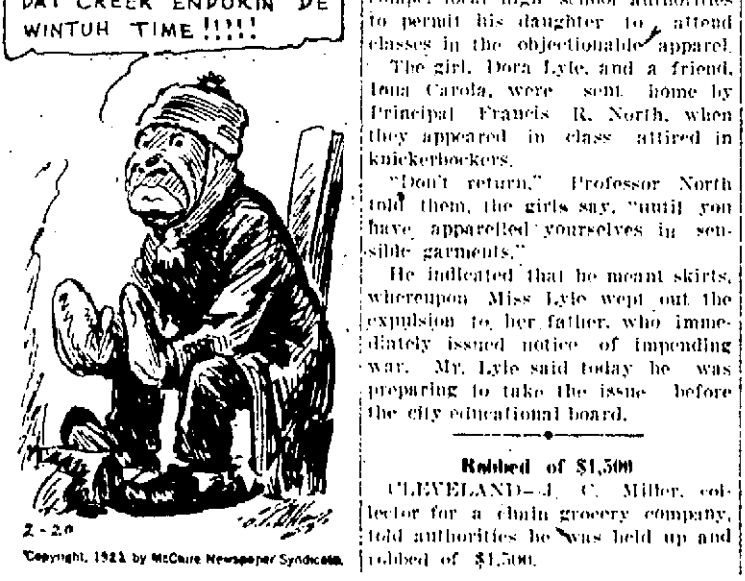

The girl, Dora Lyle, and a friend, Lou Carol, were sent home by Principal Francis R. North, when they appeared in class attired in knickerbockers.

"Don't return," Professor North told them, the girls say, "until you have appalled yourselves in sensible garments."

He indicated that he meant skirts, whereupon Miss Lyle wept out the expulsion to her father, who immediately issued notice of impending war. Mr. Lyle said today he was preparing to take the issue before the city educational board.

OPERA STAR PLANS TO RESIGN AS MANAGER

MARY GARDEN

NEW YORK, February 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Mary Garden intends to resign her position as director of the Chicago Opera Company at the close of the current season, if some one can be found to take her place, but she expects to continue with the company as an artist "where she belongs and knows she belongs," it was announced today by her secretary, Howard E. Potter.

Mr. Potter said Miss Garden would make no definite decision until she had conferred next month a Chicago with Samuel Insull, the new president of the Chicago Opera Company.

The diva had received a $250,000 offer from a New York manager for a concert tour, and she had many other interests, which she had found it impossible to carry out, he said, because of the demands on her time exacted by the position as director of the opera company, and the attending "responsibilities, annoyances, troubles and harassments" of that position.

Miss Garden was out of the city today.

Her secretary said that if Mr. Insull insisted that the impresaria was needed and must remain at the head of the Chicago organization, she would do so, but that she now felt it more worth her while to quit the position.

Last year the demands of the position cut her vacation to six weeks, and that is not enough rest for an artist, Mr. Potter said. Besides, he added, Miss Garden receives no pay as director, her salary being only that for her singing, and she has decided that it would be more profitable to relinquish the place.

He emphasized Miss Garden's intention to continue her campaign with the Chicago organization as an artist.

"That," he added, "is where she belongs and knows she belongs."

FOUR WOUNDED IN MINE STRIKE GUN BATTLE

WELLSBURG, W. VA., February 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Four men were wounded in a gun fight between a mine guard and a number of strikers' pickets near the Lisle, mine of the Pittsburg West Virginia Coal Co., south of here, today. The mine, which has been closed for some time, recently reopened on an open shop basis.

The wounded are: Ramon Espinosa, John Goodoy, Jack Saul, pickets, shot in the legs, none seriously.

Sheriff Duval said he had the situation well in hand.

Altman was escorting a party of 20 negro miners to the pit. He was accosted by the pickets and answering said they "should go along and attend to your own business."

Sheriff Duval hurried to the place with a party of deputies, and arrested five men who were brought here to the county jail. The company sent additional guards to the mine. The wounded men were removed to a Wheeling hospital, where they were placed under guard.

Three weeks ago the Pittsburg West Virginia company announced that it had broken off all negotiations with the United Mine Workers and would operate under the open shop plan. Since then three mines have been re-opened, and there was no trouble until today.

JOHN D. GIVES CONSENT TO MATHILDE'S MARRIAGE

CHICAGO, February 21.—(By the Associated Press)—That sixteen-year-old Mathilde McCormick has obtained approval of her proposed marriage to Max Oser, Zurich, Switzerland, riding master, from her grandfather, John D. Rockefeller, Sr., was stated here today by family friends.

It was reported that his one condition was that Oser should become an American citizen, but there was no confirmation of this from the McCormick family.

Mr. Oser's age still was a subject for debate, numerous persons here and at Milwaukee, who professed to be cousins, contended the Swiss equine man is 57 years old, while Howard A. Colby, friend of the McCormick family, maintained that he is only 40, as against first reports of an age of 48, three that of Miss Mathilde.

Emil Burgoyne, Chicago interior decorator, the first cousin to make him self known, visited at the McCormick home yesterday, but was informed at the front door that Mr. McCormick and Miss Mathilde were not receiving.

"It is the custom in the old country," he told newspaper men, "when a couple become engaged for all her relatives to call upon him, and all his relatives call upon her right away."

Mrs. McCormick, who recently obtained a divorce, maintained yesterday her previous statements that she had nothing to say regarding her daughter's engagement.

WEDDING OF PRINCESS GALA EVENT IN LONDON

LONDON, February 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Plans for the wedding of Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles are nearing completion.

There will be two processions on February 28, the day of the wedding. Queen Mary and Queen-mother Alexandra, with their escort and attendants, will form the first, the king following shortly afterward with the bride and an escort.

Public Much Interested
Every detail of the ceremony is displayed by the newspapers and avidly seized upon by the public, which thus learns today that the bride and groom will start their honeymoon in "mole and larkspur blue georgette." The mole to match the princess will wear, and the "blue georgette" to match her dress.

Further details are that the marriage knot will be tied by the archbishop of Canterbury, the archbishop of York, the bishop of London, the bishop of Oxford, the dean of Westminster and Canon Lascelles, the bridegroom's uncle.

New Flag To Be Flown
A new flag—the abbey flag—will be flown from one of the abbey's towers on the morning of the wedding. It has been specially designed by heraldic experts and embodies historical symbols from the time of Edward the Confessor onwards.

Preparations also are under way for popular celebrations of the wedding activities. The "Brighter London Society," an organization composed mainly of business and theatrical men, aims at making the week of the wedding "Brighter London Week" in honor of the princess. The society hopes to make the city more attractive for American tourists and other transients who recently have shown an inclination to avoid stown over here, preferring Paris or other continental cities.

LEWIS SEEKS CONFERENCE WITH OPERATORS TO AVERT COAL STRIKE

CHICAGO, February 21.—(By the Associated Press)—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, today asked coal operators of the central competitive field, comprising the states of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Western Pennsylvania, to meet with union officials at Cleveland on March 2 for a wage conference, which, he said, might avert the impending strike.

Similar requests have been rejected by some operators who said that they wished to discontinue collective bargaining with the miners.

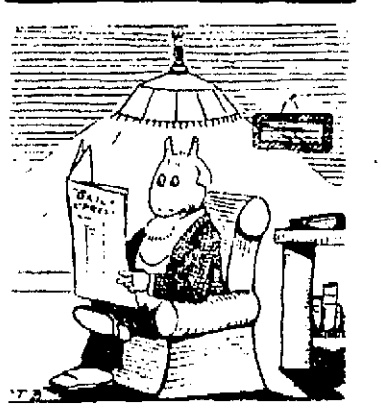

Mr. Lewis' messages for the Cleveland meeting were sent to all associations of coal operators in the central competitive field and also to operators who were signatories to the present wage agreement made in New York City two years ago.

The Cleveland meeting, if approved by the operators, Mr. Lewis said, would fix the dates for negotiations on the wage scale. No actual work on a scale agreement, he said, would be taken at the Cleveland meeting.

In his messages, Mr. Lewis referred to a provision of the present contract providing for the preliminary of the wage negotiations, this year, and he said from the obligation to meet as set forth in the agreement, "I consider such meeting essential and necessary from the standpoint of public interest and public welfare."

The miners' president also said he hoped the operators would "assume their proper obligations and arrange for adequate representation at the meeting."

Norman and Curley Forfeit Bonds

The Scioto county treasury was enriched to the extent of three thousand "iron men" through the failure of F. R. Norman, former Ashland salesman, and William Curley, Cincinnati hotel clerk, to respond in person or by counsel when Judge Thomas called their case for trial in Common Pleas court late Monday afternoon.

The two men are under indictment for larceny in connection with the theft of sixty gallons of liquor from the home of J. S. Stevens, 311 Joy, on the night of Jan. 16, 1920, and they were convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary, but a stay of sentence was granted while error proceedings were being prosecuted in Court of Appeals and that tribunal on review of the case set the verdict aside and remanded the case for retrial. The two men were released under $1500 bond each which were ordered forfeited by Judge Thomas yesterday when the defendants failed to appear to meet the charge against them.

Norman and Curley are now classed as fugitives from justice and capias' were ordered issued for their arrest. Attorneys A. R. Johnson, Trenton, and W. R. Sprague, of this city, who defended the accused men in the former trial, advised the court several days ago they did not know the whereabouts of their clients but would make an effort to have them in court.

Helps digestion —and cleans a coated tongue

Thousands of men and women have found relief from various digestive disturbances by eating Fleischmann's Yeast.

It is human nature to want to find out "why." So far as science can tell us this is the reason:

Fleischmann's Yeast is a food abundant in certain elements which are necessary to health and life itself. It promotes the flow of bile and of pancreatic juice. It has a remarkably beneficial effect on the whole digestive process. It cleans a coated tongue.

Try Fleischmann's fresh yeast in orange juice or in milk. Men like it in milk shakes and malted milks. Women like it spread on bread or crackers.

Keep your digestion in the pink of condition and your tongue clean and healthy by eating 2 or 3 cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast fresh every day before or between meals. Beware of the cheap imitations—the familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label. Place a standing order with your grocer today.

South Webster To Be Well Lighted

If present plans do not miscarry the village of South Webster will be putting on city airs before long as arrangements have virtually been made to install electric street lights in the town. Mayor Harry Mittendorf stated while in the city Monday on business.

He started the movement for lighting the village streets and through his untiring efforts in that direction success promises to crown the work as the town council has formally approved his plans and is expected to take definite action at its next meeting. It is proposed to install twenty-five arc lights in the village and the current will be furnished by Harmon Simmering from the plant he operates in the village. Mayor Mittendorf hopes to have the village streets lighted up like the "great white way" within two months.

Body Of Infant Found In Brush Pile

OAK HILLS, Feb. 20.—A great deal of mystery surrounds the finding of the body of a day-old infant yesterday in a brush pile in the Horton settlement on Jackson pike.

The body was wrapped in an old newspaper and had been terribly mutilated, one arm and leg having been chewed off by dogs. The coroner was called but was unable to determine whether death was caused by exposure or whether it was dead when placed there. A plausible theory is that it was thrown from a passing auto.

Will Fight Any Move To Name Successor

Councilman Talmadge Jones, of New Boston failed to show up at the Council meeting Monday night to claim his seat in that body as intended. Today Mr. Jones explained that as there is some question as to his authority he did not wish to take part in the trial of Fire Chief Raymond Haselip but explained that he would fight any movement Council took to put somebody in his place.

After the disposition of routine business matters last night, the first thing taken up was the Talmadge Jones matter. The majority of Council claim that Jones was illegally elected to Council and is not a member. Two members claim that he was legally chosen and is a member. The matter will sooner or later probably be left in the hands of the Attorney General for final action. The Councilmen against Jones claim he was not duly elected for a vacancy had not been declared.

Last night as soon as the matter was placed before Council, W. I. Davis, Democrat, arose and nominated Frank Emmett, Democrat, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of James Elliott, whose chair is already filled by Jones. Mr. Davis' motion was overruled when other Councilmen members, Dr. J. H. McCann and Earl Wolfe, favoring Jones, declared no vacancy had been declared. A motion declaring a vacancy was then put before Council but it lost out when McCann and Wolfe voted against it. This leaves the matter just where it was with Jones and Members McCann and Wolfe declaring he is a member of Council while the Democratic side of Council, W. I. Davis, J. W. Payton and Oscar Hoffman, insist that Jones is not entitled to a seat in that body.

Jones says that the office does not bring honor to any one but says he will not stand back and let Council rule him out in order to put a friend in the chair.

NEW BOSTON S. S. BREAKS RECORD

The Ohio Avenue Christian Church Bible School of New Boston broke all previous records last Sunday, Feb. 19th. There were 341 present and they are aiming for 500 at Easter. Some of the credit is attributed to the fact that Rev. P. E. Britton, pastor, has many personal workers who are not afraid to talk Bible School to others and the minister who owns a printing plant naturally believes in printers ink, sends out hundreds of "special cards" each Saturday announcing some of the features for the following Sunday. Each Sunday till Easter will be a special day, such as Family Day, Grandparents and Grandchildren Day. Last Sunday was "Baby Day" and the minister took a picture of all the babies present including their mothers.

Next Sunday will be "Sugar Day" at which 350 are expected to be there and enjoy seeing the largest class get a large sack of sugar of which they are to make Candy and the proceeds is to be put into the treasury. Last summer the Bible School was at a low ebb, but it has caught the vision. "Here Am I, Lord, Send Me." If you want to see a bunch of live wires, visit the school next Sunday.

RICHARDS, THE WIZARD, ANSWERS FIRST BATCH OF QUESTIONS; WRITE HIM ABOUT YOUR TROUBLES

RICHARDS, THE WIZARD

Since the first announcement was made that Richards, "the wizard" would answer questions through the columns of the Times, scores of questions have been pouring in to be answered and we publish today the first installment of answers. They cover every phase and emotion of human life, death, marriage and divorce. Richards is appearing at the Sun this week and he brings to Portsmouth the greatest production of this nature that has been here for years. He carries a special car load of scenery, an excellent company and special orchestra. There are but two places you can ask questions of Richards, through the columns of the Times or during the regular performance at the Sun among which will be matinees on Friday and Saturday. All questions are answered in the order they reach the Times office and additional installments will appear each day during Richards' engagement. When you send in your question address it to "Richards, The Wizard," care of the Times. Today's questions and answers follow.

Q. J. W.—Can you please tell me what became of my brother William who left home years ago? Is he dead or have we heard?

Ans.—Your brother is alive and married and living at 147 Dix avenue, Detroit, Michigan. Write to him there and he will answer you.

Q. B. B.—Who and when will I marry?

Ans.—You will marry the young man named Fred who took you to a picture theatre last Thursday night. You will be married in the early part of this coming May.

Q. P. S.—Can you please tell me how much money I will realize on my oil stocks?

Ans.—You were misinformed about this investment as I see you giving nothing out of it.

Q. J. C. H.—Should I continue to live with my husband or would it best to get a divorce?

Ans.—Your trouble is entirely due to lack of proper mutual understanding of your domestic affairs and if you and your husband will sensibly talk over your affairs instead of quarrelling about them you will get along much better. He is as true to you as the average husband and really cares for you and with the proper understanding you can get along happily.

Q. K. M.—Will I get to move to St. Louis and would it be for the best and when?

Ans.—I would not advise this move until after the coming summer as you will gain nothing by going before, however, after that time I see that this move will prove to your satisfaction.

Q. D. F. L.—My husband and I have been separated for three years, shall I remarry him, or accept another proposal?

Ans.—Would not advise a remarriage with your former husband as you are poorly matched and will never have any lasting happiness together. Would advise that you accept the other proposal as this marriage will prove more successful.

Q. M. R.—My friend in K. C. writes to other girls. I have known him for four years and he knows I love him. Does he love me?

Ans.—This man thinks a great deal of you, but would advise that you do not take him seriously as you will meet somebody else during the next eighteen months who will mean a great deal more to you and who will make you an excellent husband.

Q. F. E.—Where is my friend George R. and will he ever marry me?

Ans.—Your friend George is now living in Anderson, Indiana, and I don't see that he will marry you as he is living there with his wife and baby boy at present. He has been married two years.

Q. S. E. E.—Will I ever receive my share of my mother's estate?

Ans.—I see that you will receive your legal share during the next four months but it will be necessary for you to go to St. Louis to straighten out a slight legal entanglement before receiving this.

Q. J. M.—Shall I sell my lot in town or shall I build on it?

Ans.—Would advise that you accept offer to sell this lot as you would not profit any by building on it at this time.

Q. S. E. Y.—Can you tell me who has been stealing several pieces of linen from a cedar chest in my home?

Ans.—I cannot mention the name of the guilty party in the paper but would advise that you watch the only person granted the privilege of your home outside of your immediate family, and see that you will be able to trace this linen.

Q. R. S. S.—Will I be able to sell my patent and to whom?

Ans.—If you will get in touch with the Rumley Harvester Company of LaPorte, Ind., I see that you will be able to sell your patent.

Q. R. B. F.—Does my husband care for me and is there any other woman?

Ans.—I see that your husband cares for you, but recently has been greatly worried over business conditions which account for his apparent neglect.

Q. M. B. D.—Will I ever become a mother and when?

Ans.—I see you becoming a mother of a boy during the last week of this coming September.

Q. J. M.—Can you please tell me what became of my cameo ring that disappeared last week?

Ans.—If you will look in the pocket of your heavy blue kimono hanging in the wardrobe closet you will find your ring. Such articles should always be kept either upon your finger or in a jewel box.

Q. P. C. H.—Can you please tell me the name of the woman my husband has been going out with and when can I catch them together?

Ans.—I cannot mention the other woman's name in the paper as she is fairly well known here but you will have an opportunity in the near future of getting valuable information or bring your question to the Ladies' Only Matinee on Friday and I will answer you fully.

Q. M. T. M.—Will my husband get the state bonus?

Ans.—I do not see him getting this in the near future.

Q. J. P. W.—Can you please tell me what is the matter with me, can I be cured?

Ans.—You have a tumor of the kidney and advise that you consult a reliable physician or surgeon immediately and you will be cured.

This is the last question Richards can answer today but additional installments will appear every day this week. If you have not already sent in your question do so as once as questions are answered in the order they are received. If you are in a hurry for an answer take your question to the Sun Theatre where Richards doubtless will answer you during the mental portion of the big show. Private question blanks may also be obtained at the theatre ticket office.

Kline's

Of Significance to our Clientele:

After two busy weeks of investigation and purchasing in the world's greatest style center—New York, our Mr. A. Kline has returned.

This announcement we feel means much to those interested in "What's What" for Spring. Kline's has a message of importance—a wealth of first-hand knowledge of the New Styles to impart.

Thrilling volumes might be written on the New Costumes; on suits of covert cloth in gray and sand for instance, about which even suit-disliking Paris is enthusiastic. Your color eye will linger long on the king's blue or brick red char-meuse which faces the mandarin sleeves of many elaborate, though straight Tail-leurs.

Speaking of color, would you ever have guessed that Mimosa, seen everywhere trimming smart Frocks and Blouses, was golden-rod yellow, or that Jark was a fashionable light fawn? There are many other things, just as mysterious, just as alluring.

And the latest in Millinery; in new Accessories, the crowning glory of new costumes, are here too, making it a pleasure for any woman to beautifully and completely attire herself.

Incidentally, we desire to extend a most cordial invitation to you to view the comprehensive display we have already assembled for your approval.

Tomorrow, or today—if possible—but surely one day this week you will wish to see these tempting New Spring Modes.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—To settle an argument should a girl hold a man's hat while in a picture show or church, or let him hold his own?

MARY JANE.
She can hold his hat if she wants to, but I would not let a man make a hat rack out of me. If you take care of his hat you might as well let him have his overcoat on your shoulder, and put his gloves in your pocket.

Dear Dolly—You give such good advice and seem so sensible that I could like for you to pick a wife for me. I am 28 years of age, considered good looking, dress nice and go with the best company. I am a railroad man and make good wages, so you see I am well able to take care of a wife. I had a date with a girl last Wednesday night and I broke it and she came after me. I had another date Thursday night and could not go and she came after me again. Dolly, do you think she loves me?

WOULDED BOY.
I don't know whether she loves you or not, but she seems to have her eyes on you, and she will let you if you don't watch out. Most girls would get mad if you broke a date with them, but this one seems to enjoy it. If you will bring your girls down to the office, I will look them over and see which one would make the best wife for you.

Dear Dolly—If one has their mail come to Portsmouth and no street number is mentioned, will it be left at the post office, or will it be done with it?

IGNORANT.
The post office employees will make an effort to locate the person, and if they can't find them, the letter will be sent to the dead letter office, after being held a certain length of time. If a person is expecting a letter they may go to the general delivery window and ask for their mail. Transient visitors in the city may have their mail addressed general delivery, but those who have permanent addresses should have their mail addressed to the number of their house or place of business.

Dear Miss Dolly Wise—Please tell me why every girl or most every girl takes the bow out of a fellow's hat when he calls on them? Dolly, is it a sign that they love you or what? I was at my girl's house the other night and her father and mother did not seem to like me. Dolly, you ought to have seen a lug like me.

D. L.
The girls you call on, probably think you have the "big head" and they take the bow out of your hat to see if it will fit any better. May be your girl's father and mother were giving you a few lessons in osculation, or giving you the hint to get busy.

Dear Dolly—Please print the rules for hanging the American flag.

TIMES READER.
When a flag is placed in a window it should be so placed that it will be viewed with the starry field in the upper left hand corner with the stripes horizontal. When the flag is projected from a window on a pole, or on a wire or rope, the starry field is placed farthest from the house displaying it, except when facing a parade, when the flag is suspended across the street with the starry field in the upper left-hand corner as viewed by the parade. The flag should not be fastened over doorways or arches. Always let the flag hang straight. Do not tie it in a bow knot. Where colors are desired for decorative purposes, use red, white and blue bunting. When used on a casket at a funeral the stars should be placed at the head, in no case should the flag be allowed to touch the ground.

Waverly, Ohio—Dear Dolly—Please print some appropriate names for some one you think the world of and a thousand times more. Also tell me what the fourth dimension is.

ELAINE.
You forgot to mention whether you wanted the name for a pet dog, cat or bird. However, I haven't anything new in pet names. Here are a few old-timers to select from: honey-dew, honey-bunch, sugar-bump, snooker-ukums, etc. The fourth dimension is a term used in hyper-geometry. If you want it explained in detail let me know and I will tell you about it.

INTERESTED ONE—I can't print names in this department. Call up some of the education teachers or readers in the city.

SOCIETY.

Following the playlet, Mrs. James W. Bannon, Jr., the chairman for the afternoon, introduced Mr. H. H. Eccles, principal of the High School, who made the address of the afternoon. He took for his subject the "Activities of the Portsmouth High School."

In opening his remarks, Mr. Eccles stated that the report frequently came to his ears, as it undoubtedly did to others, that the Portsmouth high school was no longer considered among the first grade schools of the country. Mr. Eccles stated that since the year 1904 the Portsmouth high school had been enrolled in the Northern Central Association, and had always kept the standard necessary for membership in this association. Other qualifications necessary for the high standard among first grade schools, is that no teacher have an academic class larger than thirty members, as repeated tests have proven that it is impossible for a teacher to properly care for a greater number of students.

"With the school as large as it is, it has been run the past few years like machinery, and we want to inject the personal touch, believing from frequent tests that this will be a wonderful help not only to the students who are at the impressionable age of their life, but for the teachers and parents as well."

Mr. Eccles also extended an invitation to the mothers of any and all High School students to come to his office at any time and talk over matters pertaining to the welfare of their sons and daughters.

According to Mr. Eccles, the most popular courses in the school at the present time are the manual training courses and the commercial courses—more than one-half of the pupils being enrolled in these courses. Next year a class in parliamentary law will be given for the class officers.

In his talk Mr. Eccles said "The enrollment in the local high school has grown so extensively in the past eighteen months, that there is now a total of 837 students in the high school, compared to 625 when I came here in September, 1920. At that time there were eighteen teachers as compared with thirty seven teachers now on the faculty."

"Within the past year the state has compelling children to attend school until they have reached their sixteenth year has been passed, thus keeping more students in school than before."

"The High school at the present will only accommodate 700 pupils, and two classes are compelled to use the basement of the library. When the new addition is ready, all the pupils will be taken care of in the high school."

"Owing to the vast mental differences among this large student body, an adjustment of courses within the near future is imperative. Out of the 837 pupils, a majority of them ranked in mental tests, twice as efficient as the remainder of the students, and therefore we are compelled soon to arrange our courses to conform to the mental ability of the different students."

"Among the recommendations which will be placed before the board of education for adoption next year, are special courses by women teachers of child care and home economics for the girls, and sex hygiene for the boys. We are also planning to assign various teachers next year a maximum of twenty five students, for whom they will act as disciplinarian, advisor, etc. These teachers will visit at least once each semester, the homes of each student, meeting and personally talking to both of the parents in regard to the welfare of each particular student."

In his closing remarks Mr. Eccles stated, that although since the beginning of the fall term, he had visited many large and more important high schools in the state, on tours of inspection, he would not trade the Portsmouth high school for the best high school in the North Central Association.

After Mr. Eccles' talk Mrs. Orson H. Ogier, county chairman of the League of Women Voters, explained the purpose of the organization, and asked the co-operation of the members of the Woman's City Club and others in forming a organization here and in the county. The league is non-partisan and every woman voter in the county is extended a cordial invitation to join.

At the business meeting of the Woman's City Club held after the speech, the Tree Committee submitted the following resolution:

"That the Woman's City Club plant trees, shrubbery and perennials to beautify the State Trail; that we give assistance and our hearty cooperation to Mrs. Lisle Evans and her committee of Chillicothe; that farmers and owners of land along the highways be consulted so that no tree or shrub shall be planted that would impair the future usefulness of the land or ruin the roadbed; that unsightly places be covered with honey-suckle or wild roses; that good views be kept open and unobstructed; that the club do its utmost to assist the state highway department in its campaign against unsightly billboards; that the planting of sunflowers or shrubs that will supply winter berries for birds be especially encouraged; that the club work in conjunction with the county commissioners in any improvement undertaken; that waste land be covered with shrubbery, a grass plot or heart parenthetical, the holy-bark." The resolution committee included Mrs. W. F. Gahn, advisor; Mrs. Isabella Thomas, Mrs. Frank C. Miller, Mrs. Albert G. Schmid and Miss Edna Streich.

The flower planting committee for the various school yards in the city and Schenckville is as follows:

Why fade at .30?

Youthful maturity may exert a charm which youth alone can't rival. And certainly no woman should allow her youthful freshness to fade just when the joy of living should be at its height.

Keep your school-girl complexion and you can forget the passing years. The woman with a fresh, radiant skin will always seem young.

How to keep it—this is simple, as Cleopatra could tell you. The secret lies in daily intelligent care which will make beauty life-long.

How Cleopatra kept young
Girlhood days had long passed when the beautiful Egyptian reached the height of her fame and loveliness. Her charm grew greater with years.

She knew how to care for and keep the smooth, flawless complexion which makes the possessor seem ever young.

Her method—thorough cleansing with the soothing oils discovered in ancient Egypt. Whatever cosmetics this queen of beauty used, the foundation was a skin free from all injurious accumulations.

Why your face needs washing

Because the accumulation of dirt, oil and perspiration must be removed or they will ruin your skin. To let them collect in the pores is to invite complexion troubles.

Inevitably such deposits soon cause enlarged pores and coarse texture results. The dirt forms blackheads and carries infections which cause blotches.

The more powder you use to conceal this condition the worse it grows, for this only increases the clogging. Lotions and cold creams won't help—you must remove the cause.

Gentle cleansing with Palmolive will soon improve the condition, and don't be afraid to be thorough.

Massage the cosmetic lather into the skin so that it may remove every trace of injurious soil.

If your skin is dry, apply cold cream after cleansing. Oily skins won't require such applications.

Throat, neck, shoulders

Need the same beautifying cleansing, for complexion beauty doesn't stop with the face.

Bathe with Palmolive and keep your skin smooth and white. It is a luxury all can afford.

For with all its fineness, its mild, soothing qualities, its gentle cosmetic action, Palmolive isn't an expensive soap. Popularity keeps the price low.

10 cents a cake

This modest sum is possible through gigantic production which keeps the Palmolive factories working day and night and the importation of the bland mild oils in reducing volume.

Thus this finest facial soap, which if made in small quantities would cost at least 25 cents, is offered at the price of ordinary soap.

Adventures Of The Twins

BY OLIVE ROBERTS HARTON

A pair of hands were just setting a large chocolate cake out to cool.

As soon as the Twins left the orchard they stepped into a strange country. Not Whispering Forest or Bright Meadowland, or the low swampy place by Lily Pond, but a realm they had never seen before. It was quite plain that the little Green Shoes tucked away safely under their gazebos were not real, but an adventure into new realms of mystery.

But then! One would hardly expect to look for Longhair the Wizard, or the Diddleyboys with the blue hair, or the Kersknotts with the green beards, in any place one knows all about.

The S. S. G. Club was entertained with a Valentine party Monday evening at the home of Miss Georgia McLeod with Miss Eudora Darragh as assistant hostess. Music, contests and various diversions helped to pass the time, and a late hour appetizing lunch was served.

The table was beautifully decorated with hearts and emblems, and valentines were presented as favors. Guests for the evening were: Misses Charlotte Crosby, Thelma Glickerson, Charlie Stone, Ruth Cottle, Eunice Darragh and Messrs. Anna Sullivan, Owen Stone, Dan Embs, Carson McLeod and Charles Darragh.

Right ahead was a mountain, and Nick pointed.
"That's the Rubber Mountain, I'll bet you, where Nimble Toes got bounced off. If the record flew out of his hand it can't be very far away. Why, it might be around here anywhere! Let's look."

So they started to hunt. They bent back bushes and rolled away stones, poked in puddles and peered down hollow stumps, but there was no sign of a record anywhere or anything like one.

Suddenly Nick felt a slight pricking. It was not enough to hurt him, more like the electric sparks when you comb your hair and then touch your hand to the comb.

He remembered the feather and pulled it out of his pocket. The feather was bending frantically away from a hollow stone or cave into which the Twins were about to step.

"We'd better not go in there," said Nancy. "The feather is leading us away."

Nick looked back ruefully. "No, I guess we'd better not," he said slowly, when suddenly his eyes grew round as saucers. "Oh, look!" he cried. A pair of hands were just setting a large chocolate cake out to cool. Instantly the hands disappeared, leaving the cake on a low table, shiny, delicious and tempting.

Beauty not only Skin Deep

The Soft Velvet Sheen of a Beautiful Complexion Comes From Within.

TANLAC, RATHER THAN COSMETICS, WILL PUT ROSES IN YOUR CHEEKS

One of woman's greatest charms lies in the beauty of her skin. Men, admiring the soft velvetness of its texture, and women envying the real roses are not put in the cheeks with cosmetics. Their use is simply an acknowledgment of failing beauty. Face creams, rouge and powder will not fill out a sunken cheek or rebuild a sawn neck. They do not, and cannot, restore the sheen of a healthy complexion.

What haggard-looking, careworn women need to bring back the natural bloom to their cheeks and the irresistible sparkle to the eye is the glow of perfect health. Nothing on earth can equal TANLAC for this, because tens of thousands of happy women who have tried it and are now the picture of health.

Contrary to the old saying, beauty is not skin deep. Beauty comes from within. Unless your stomach is in perfect condition, you cannot hope to have a rosy, healthy complexion—beauty.

Digestive troubles ruin the complexion of women and men. Ugly pimples, blotches and blackheads are the surest signs that your digestion is out of order, that your stomach and liver are not working, that you do not assimilate your food and do not properly eliminate the waste matter, which poisons your system.

Is there anything more objectionable than a face with blemishes? Persons—women and men—who are troubled with impurities of the skin, suffer constantly and keenly their misfortune.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Erskine Dale, captured in infancy by the Indians, is adopted by the chief Kahlo and reared as an Indian under the name of White Arrow. He is told that his mother, captured with him, was killed.

Maltreated by an Indian boy Erskine flees to a settler's stockade in Kentucky and is recognized by his mortally wounded father. The boy goes to Red Oaks, the great plantation on the James River, now occupied by Colonel Dale, younger brother of Erskine's father. The boy is kindly received by his cousins, Barbara and Harry. Erskine flees to the wilderness and leaves Red Oaks, legally, to Barbara, after threatening to kill Dune Grey, with whom he has quarreled in jealousy over the girl. He is met by Shawnee Indians who persuade him to visit his foster-father, the old chief Kahlo, in the Indian camp he finds a white woman condemned to death. Her beautiful half-breed daughter, Early Dawn, is loved by Erskine's enemy, Black Wolf.

Erskine on his return from a war council where he sided with the Americans after all the tribe had agreed to throw their fighting force with the British, was taken captive by Black Wolf and his followers and held as a spy and traitor while plans were made to burn him at the stake but not until Erskine had succeeded in saving the condemned woman.

Erskine, freed by Early Dawn as Black Wolf slept in drunken stupor, escaped to stockade. Later, Erskine goes to Red Oaks where he finds Barbara and Dune Grey together. Finding the telling of his experiences, Erskine finds himself face to face with Dune Grey.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

"It seems you have been amusing yourself with my kinspeople at my expense," Grey drew himself up in haughty silence. Erskine went on:

"I have known some liars who were not cowards."

"On remember a promise I made you once," corrected Erskine. Grey's eyes flashed upward to the crossed rapier on the wall.

"Precisely," answered Erskine, "and when?"

Barbara, reappearing, heard their last words, and she came forward pale and with pleading eyes:

"Cousin Erskine, I want to apologize to your little faith, Mr. Grey. You were right at the door at once. I wish you a safe journey to your command."

Erskine was on the porch when Grey came out to mount his horse. "You will want seconds?" asked Grey.

"They might try to stop us—I shall ride slowly," Grey said.

Grey interrupted him with a glad shout:

"We can go!" Colonel Dale nodded and:

Suddenly all pulled their horses in simultaneously and raised their eyes, for all heard the coming of a horse in a dead run. Around a thickset curve of the road came Barbara, with her face white and her hair streaming behind her. She pulled her pony in but a few feet in front of them, with burning eyes on Erskine alone.

"Have you killed him—have you killed him?" If you have, she seemed helpless, and all were so amazed that none could answer. Erskine shook his head. There was a flash of relief in the girl's white face, its recklessness gave way to sudden shame, and, without a word, she wheeled and was away again—Harry flying after her. No one spoke. Colonel Dale looked at Erskine and Erskine's heart almost turned sick.

XVI

AS THE dusk gathered that evening Erskine, looking gloomily through his window, saw Barbara flutter like a white moth past the box-hedge and down the path. A moment later he saw the tall form of Colonel Dale follow her. On the thick turf the colonel's feet too were noiseless, and when Barbara stopped at the sundial he too paused.

"Little girl!" he called, and no lover's voice could have been more gentle. "Come here!"

She turned and saw him, the low moon lighting all the tenderness in his old face, and she flew to him. In wise silence, he stroked her hair until she grew a little calmer. "What's the matter, little daughter?"

"I—I didn't want anybody harmed."

"I know. It's too bad, but none of us seem quite to trust Mr. Grey."

"That's it," she sobbed; "I don't either, and yet—"

"I know. My little girl must be wise and brave. Mother is not well and she must not be made unhappy too. Can't my little girl come back to the house now?"

She must be honest and this is Erskine's last night. She looked up, brushing away her tears.

"His last night?" Ah, wise old colonel!

She took her father's arm, and when they reached the steps Erskine saw her smiling. And smiling, almost gay, she was at supper, sitting with exquisite dignity in her mother's place. Harry and Hugh looked amazed, and her father, who knew the bit of tempered steel she was, smiled his encouragement proudly. Of Erskine who sat at her right she asked many questions about the coming campaign.

After supper the little lady excused herself with a smiling courtesy to go to her mother. Erskine found himself in the moonlight on the big porch with Colonel Dale alone.

"Erskine," he said, "you make it very difficult for me to keep your secret. It was a foolish impulse of generosity which made you give this estate to Barbara."

"Never," interrupted the boy. "I have no use—less than ever now."

"Barbara would not accept your sacrifice for would any of us, and it is only fair that I should warn you that some day, if you should change your mind, and I were no longer living, you might be too late."

"Please don't, Uncle Harry. It is done—done. Of course, it wasn't fair to me to consider Barbara alone, but she will be fair and you understand. I wish you would regard the whole matter as though I didn't exist."

In a few moments she had found Harry and Hugh. Even while their horses were being saddled her father rode up.

"It's murder," cried Harry, "and Grey knows it. Erskine knows nothing about a rapier."

Without a word Colonel Dale wheeled his first horse and soon Harry and Hugh dashed after him. Barbara walked back to the house, wringing her hands, but on the porch she sat quietly in the agony of waiting that was the role of women in those days.

Meanwhile, fitfully was skimming along the river road. Grey had kept his word. He was waiting between two plantations.

They hitched their horses, and Erskine followed into a pleasant glade—a grassy glade through which murmured a little stream. Erskine dropped the rapier on the sward.

"Take your choice," he said. "There is none," said Grey, picking up the rapier to him.

"When you are ready," Erskine said.

"Ready?" answered Grey, and lunged.

Erskine barely eluded at his blade and sprang backward. He was as quick as an eye-blink and lit as a panther, and yet Grey almost laughed aloud.

All Erskine did was to whip the thrusting blade aside and leap out of danger like a flash of light. It was like an expert boxer flailing according to rules unknown—and Grey's face flamed and actually turned ashen.

Then, Erskine's blade caught in Grey's guard by accident, and the powerful wrist behind it seeking eagerly to wrench the weapon loose from Grey's grasp. With his sword's point on the earth, he waited courteously for Grey to recover his weapon.

As Grey rushed for his sword, Erskine heard the beat of horses' hoofs. He snatched it from the ground and turned, and as he rushed for Erskine, Colonel Dale swung from his horse. The sword-blade clashed—and Colonel Dale had Erskine by the wrist and was between them.

"How dare you, sir?" cried Grey hotly.

"Just a moment," repeated the colonel sternly. "Mr. Grey, do you think it quite fair that you with your skill should fight a man who knows nothing about fisticuffs?"

"There was no other way," Grey said sulkily.

"Your country is at war. She needs every man for her defense. Do you not both think your lives belong to your country?"

"Colonel Dale, your nephew grossly insulted me, and your daughter showed me the door. I merely repeated what I had been told and I believed it true. I am willing to express my regrets and apologies."

"That is better," said Colonel Dale heartily, and he turned to Erskine, but Erskine was crying hotly:

"And I express neither."

As they rode back Colonel Dale spoke of the war. It was about to move into Virginia, he said, and he must go. He and his family, when it did. Both Harry and

A. & J. Frank, The Say:
The present prices of industrial stocks reflect their earning power rather than their intrinsic value. The decreased earnings have brought low stock market quotations. Many of these companies are just as sound and their products just as good as the day when you purchased their securities.

Better times are coming. It may be years before such securities can again be purchased at the present low prices. These low prices offer a splendid opportunity to investors to materially reduce the per share investment of stocks purchased at higher prices.

We are selling many of the R. L. Dollings Co. issues at 82 1/2 per share, with the exception of Southern Cattle Feeding and Florida Farms & Industries, pld., which we quote at 76. At 82 1/2 these shares net the investor around 8 1/2 per cent. These stocks are non-taxable in Ohio. We believe they are a good buy. Further details upon request.

We Buy and Sell all these Stocks

Many of these attractive priced Ohio industrial stocks purchased now should show splendid profits to the holder.

We will help finance purchases

We are recognized specialists in Ohio Unlisted Stocks.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Opening prices in the stock market today were substantially higher regardless of prospects of higher money. Traders again favored the equipments, rails, and oils. American Locomotive, Archison, Rick Island, Tidewater Oil, American Tobacco, and Sumatra Tobacco rose 1 to 1 1/2 points. Davison Chemical, Western Union, Westinghouse, General Electric, U. S. Steel, Crucible Steel and American International were firm to strong. National Enamelling whose directors act on the dividend today, added 1 1/2 points to yesterday's reaction.

United States Steel made a new high quotation for over a year at 2 1/2 and stimulated further buying of other steels as well as equipments and motors during the forenoon. Sugars, leathers, textiles and mail order issues also strengthened. South Porto Rico Sugar, Hide and Leather, Central Leather, American Woolen, Sears-Roebuck and Montgomery Ward rose 1 to almost 4 points. Local utilities were the only weak features, the various traction stocks and bonds falling 2 to 3 points as a result of the cut in valuations announced by the transit commission. Call money opened and renewed until Thursday at five per cent.

High grade issues of the railways, steel, equipment and miscellaneous groups featured the more confident accumulation of stocks today at gains of 1 to 4 points. Sales approximated 900,000 shares.

The closing was strong.

EX-MAYOR DAVIS OF NEW BOSTON CHANGES HIS PLEA TO ASSAULT; IS FINED $200

INDOOR FAIR SUCCESS; CLOSING TONIGHT

With the jitter dances as the most popular form of entertainment in the hall the Spanish War Veterans indoor fair in the Auditorium Gallia and Bond streets, opened last night. The fair will come to a close tonight.

The attendance last night was all that could be expected. Despite the rain a big number thronged the dance floor and kept the people in charge of the various refreshment booths busy. The men and women in charge have worked hard several weeks making plans for the fair, and judging from the number of tickets sold the two day entertainment will be a success. All members selling tickets should make their report tonight before nine o'clock.

The doors open about seven o'clock. The jitter dances start a short time later with Journey's seven piece orchestra furnishing the music.

Last night pupils from Miss Dorothy Englebrecht's class of dancing gave novelty dances that made a big hit.

They will dance again this evening. These little folks are Alma and Vivian Spratt, Tulsa Bassler, Harriet Smith, Mary McGuire, Mary Elizabeth Distel and Mary Lucille Grooms.

Every one who failed to attend the fair last evening, should try to be there tonight.

When J. Samuel Davis, former mayor of New Boston, under indictment for highway robbery in connection with the holding up of an automobile and stealing campaign literature belonging to the New Boston Republican club early on the morning of the November election, appeared before Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court Tuesday afternoon, he was permitted to change his plea of not guilty and plead guilty of the lesser offense of assault. Judge Thomas then imposed a fine of $200 and costs and sentenced him to six months in jail but suspended the jail sentence pending good behavior.

John Henry, deputy marshal, who participated in taking the campaign bills at the instance of Davis, and who was tried and convicted of assault, was fined $1 and costs, which the former mayor promised the court to pay in view of the fact that Henry is a poor man and unable to pay. Two others, former Marshals Dewey Parsons and Frank Scott, who are also under indictment for complicity in the holdup, are expected to come into court and change their plea to guilty.

Attorney H. T. Bannon addressing the court for the prosecution on the score of the punishment that should be meted out, declared that the seriousness of such conduct was the mere fact that the defendants were officers at the time and that they had no warrant or excuse for such high handed proceeding. He stated that while the defendants did not probably realize the gravity of the offense at the time yet they should have stopped and considered and that it was as much as a robbery in the meaning of the law as it could be. The attorney referred to the fact that the officers did not take money from their victims but that took away their political defense which had been prepared to rebut attacks made through the press the night before.

Attorney Kimble, counsel for Davis, in extenuation for his client, stated that the defendants admitted they had made a mistake but asserted that under the circumstances it was one which many good men might make and that they were not to be classed in the same category as the highwayman and robber. While it was an unfortunate situation and better if it had not been, yet the turpitude of the offense was not as serious as the usual highway robbery case, the attorney declared.

Before sentence was passed the former mayor stated that he had always tried to obey the law but admitted that he had acted a little hastily in this instance. He declared that it was not done to advance his political situation but rather to protect his family. He said he had received reports that the hand bill contained scandalous statements reflecting on his character and reputation and that he was under the impression that he was acting within the law when he took it into his own hands to suppress the circulars. He asserted that he was still of the opinion that had the circulars been distributed in the villages there would have been serious trouble there on election day.

Ship On A Trial Flight

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The airship Roma, it was said at the war department, was engaged in trial flights after recent installation of Liberty motors to replace the Italian engines with which the ship was originally equipped when she made the flight from Langley field to Washington last year to be christened and formally commissioned in the army air service. The Italian motors gave trouble and it was decided to replace them with the proven American models.

The Roma originally was built for a passenger ship and carried several passenger cabins. She was altered when she was brought from Italy on ship board and reassembled at Langley field so that she had but one passenger cabin.

Tentative plans were made recently by the air service for operation of the ship this spring and summer on a commercial test run between New York and Chicago and later for a trans-continental flight.

On her trip from Langley field to Washington, the Roma carried more than 50 people, including crew and passengers. Her capacity was fixed at approximately 60 persons.

Third Big Airship Destroyed

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—The dirigible Roma, which blew up today over Hampton Roads, was the third big airship to be destroyed in a spectacular mishap in the last 13 months.

On August 24, 1921, the ZR-3, built by the British for purchase by the United States at a cost of $2,000,000 exploded over Hull, England, killing 12, including 16 Americans.

On January 1, 1921, the R-31, which flew from England to Long Island and back in the summer of 1919, the first airship to cross the Atlantic, was wrecked in a gale while anchored outside her airbase in Hovatt, England.

BRANCH RICKEY MAY ACQUIRE ONE OF GIANTS' STAR HURLERS; BIG TRADES ARE BREWING

Cooper And Meadows May Soon Be Playing For New Managers

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Rumors of trades involving star players of various teams in the National League were heard in baseball circles today as a result of the Giants' announcement that "Shuffie" Phil Hughes and Jess Barnes, 1921 world's series hurling heroes, had been placed on the market.

It was denied that they were in trouble for not signing 1922 contracts and President Charles Stoneham said numerous offers for their services had been made.

The Philadelphia and Pittsburgh clubs were believed to have something to do with the offers Mr. Stoneham mentioned. Lee Meadows, the only spectator under the tent, was said to be a prospective pitcher in a Giant-Philadelphia trade, with Wilbur Cooper, the left-hander of the Pirates, mentioned in the gossip as a future Giant.

From Yankees headquarters came the news that Bob Shawkey and Lefty O'Doul had signed 1922 contracts, also that Harry Harper, who recently declared his intention of opening a trucking business, had asked for a leave of absence until May 1.

Harper's application is to be submitted to Commissioner Landis for approval.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 21.—The report coming from New York that Jesse Barnes and Phil Hughes, pitchers of the New York Nationals, had been offered for sale, caused Branch Rickey, manager of the local Nationals, to postpone his departure for the training camp. He would not say whether he would bid for the two pitchers who he had received official confirmation of the proposed sale.

Yep, Catlettsburg Gets Real Thrill

The Huntington Herald Dispatch says: "Not since the days of 'Red' Nose Park and the famous 'Front Street' has Catlettsburg experienced a thrill such as that which swept over the tiny little Kentucky city Saturday night when the Portsmouth Selects, the greatest aggregation of basketball collectors between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati, tossed a bombshell into the douront of English Chaffield and company, defeating the Sky-rockets by the lopsided count of 69 to 34.

At no time during the forty minutes of play did the Kentuckians have a chance to win. They were hopelessly outclassed from start to finish. Forward Edwards and Captain Judo Bauman were the big gunners for the Selects. Chaffield did the best work for Catlettsburg."

COURT INTERFERED WITH GOLF; QUILTS BENCH

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—Golf was one of the impelling reasons why Kenneth Mountain Landis recently resigned his federal judgeship, it was learned today.

Although an ardent lover of the game, the baseball commissioner found that he had no time for the links while exercising his double duty of arbitrating legal and baseball affairs. He found time for only three rounds of golf last year, which he decided was not sufficient to keep him in physical and mental trim for his arduous duties. He said that with court routine off his calendar, he felt sure he would be able to play enough golf to keep him in perfect condition for the work of arbitrating baseball difficulties.

The judge plays a tolerable game of golf, and as a dog fancier possesses a canine that has been taught to retrieve lost golf balls.

Professionalism Not Confined To Middlewest

(BY ROBERT EDGREN)

Football is fast becoming an all-season pastime. Months after the usual season, games are played in the form of wild professional charges, made by various institutions. We now learn that college teams supposed to be amateur were at least semi-professional and that "crump" athletes with marked ability were very well come at many seats of higher learning. The recent blowup in the Middle West simply awoke a sleeping dog.

Most of football's present trouble comes from the necessity of winning. Great stadiums were built. They could not be filled if teams continually lost. Coaches were signed on their ability to produce winning teams and not on their power to spread helpful influence and interest a large number of youths in the game.

In the furious competition for victorious gridiron teams sharp players were bound to creep in. Star players would be rounded up so cleverly that college authorities never knew anything about their advent on the campus. It was only a question of time when all this unfairness would be exposed. The reform movement is starting first in the wheat belt.

Professionalism is just as rampant in other sections as in the Middle West.

One of the most famous captains of the "Big Three" sadly told me a short time ago that he hadn't made as much money since leaving college as he did playing football. His case is only one of many that have come to my attention.

Johnson Regards Pitching 56 Scoreless Innings As His Very Best Performance

By WALTER JOHNSON

HAT do you regard as your best pitching performance?

Most pitchers when asked such a question would probably refer you to some no-hit game they had worked. If fortunate enough to have broken into that class.

I made my debut in the American League in 1907. It was not until 1920 that I was lucky enough to turn in a no-hit game. When I say lucky I mean it.

In the long stretch between 1907 and 1920 I had many times threatened to break into the no-hit class, only to have my record spoiled at the last moment, a couple of times after two men were out in the ninth.

However, I do not regard that no-hit game as my best pitching performance.

It is a rather interesting fact, that I pitched my no-hit game after I had been on the shelf for several weeks with a sore arm and a few other ailments.

In fact the no-hit game bobbed up at a time when a lot of experts were predicting that I was through.

In 1912 Joe Wood and I begged the blue-light for a considerable part of the season with strings of 16 straight victories, which by the way is an American League record.

I pitched good ball during that long run, but was favored by the breaks and excellent assistance from my teammates.

It really is rather hard for me to decide what I regard as my best performance.

I am in doubt between the 56 scoreless innings I pitched in 1913, when I started the opening game of the season on April 10 with a shut-out and went to May 15 before being scared on, or when I pitched three shut-out games on successive days against the New York club in 1908.

I am inclined to think the 56 scoreless innings I pitched in 1913 was the best twirling effort of my career.

Tomorrow Johnson tells what type ball is best to use.

JUST CHATTER

Who is the middleweight champion, Bryan Downey or Johnny Wilson?

Wilson is still carrying around a badly damaged crown. He is generally recognized as the champion because his hand-picked referee said Downey fouled him in their Cleveland bout.

However, I will take Bryan Downey for mine. Incidentally I believe that fight fans all over the country take the same view. The record of the two fighters during the last six months would win popular approval for Downey. All other things being equal, which they are not.

The public likes chatpions who fight. Wilson hasn't fought any since his bout at Jersey City with Downey. There are of course two reasons for his failure to engage in a bout that would risk his title. In the first place Wilson doesn't care much about fighting. In the second place, there are few places that want to see him fight. He is under suspension in practically every state where fighting is permitted.

Downey, on the other hand, is always willing to meet any fighter who meets the approval of a worthy white promoter. In the last two months he has met two of the toughest boys in the middleweight division, Happy Littleton and Young Fisher.

In knocking out Littleton in five rounds, Downey accomplished a feat rarely done for Bob Roper, Mike Gibbons, Chuck Wiggles, Harry Greb and a number of others.

Downey is a fighter, not a boxer yet is really clever in his own peculiar way. During the last three months he has greatly perfected his left hand. His left jab now carries with it a snap that does much to upset his opponent and make him a mark for Downey's right cross which packs a real knockout kick.

There is one thing about Downey that makes a hit with the fight fans, the seldom disappoints. If a bout in which he is one of the principles fails to please, blame can never be attached to Downey as he is always trying.

RUTH TO GET $60,000; $500 FOR EACH HOMER

(BY WILLIAM CHIPMAN)

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Showing that he has a good head for business regardless of his $75,000 salary demand, Babe Ruth will leave Milwaukee tomorrow for a course of bunts at Hot Springs preliminary to his regular spring training work with the Yankees at New Orleans.

The champion slugger's salary for 1922 will be $60,000 with a $500 premium for each home run—just double the figures for last year. Thus, with even 31 home runs to his credit, Babe Ruth will shade John McGraw and his $65,000 contract as manager of the Giants. So starts the race for the honor of being the most expensive human element in baseball.

Ruth and the Yankees management agreed to their terms last week. The actual signing of the contract and the decision as to whether Babe will be docked for his suspension of 36 playing days will be taken up later.

This no doubt is the last we shall hear of the money angle of Ruth this year.

The slugger will go about his work as usual and the contract will be signed quietly. The actual signature of the document probably will not be announced, and certainly no mention of money will be made.

Tournament Will Close Tomorrow

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 21.—Unless a quiet of bowlers step in today or tomorrow and rolls better than 297, Bowman Specials of Canton, will go down as the winners of the prime event of the 1922 Ohio State bowling tournament. The tournament closes tomorrow night.

The biggest game of the tournament was rolled yesterday by H. Kilbuck, of Martins Ferry, who turned in a score of 284. With his partner, J. Ray, with 1293 plus to their credit, they went into second place in the doubles. E. Scripps, of Akron, rolled into second place in the singles with a total of 692 pins. Columbus bowlers will predominate off the alleys today.

May Not Be A Very Wise Move

All of the American League umpires will welcome the announcement that Johnny Evers has been signed as an assistant to Kid Gleason at Chicago. That may not prove to be such a wise move, as it was Evers who advised the Cincinnati club to ride Eddie Collins in the 1919 series in order to break down the morale of the White Sox. It is hardly probable that Collins, who is the brains of the ball club has forgotten it.

White Beats Willie Jackson

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Charlie White, Chicago lightweight, last night defeated Willie Jackson of New York, receiving the judges' decision after their fifteen round bout in Madison Square Garden.

The Chicagoan's left hook enabled him to floor the New York boy three times in the thirteenth round.

Jackson seemed due to take the count on the third knockdown but the bell saved him.

White was slow in the early rounds and Willie buffered him about the ring with hard rights to the jaw and straight, lefts to the chin. It was not until the fourth round that White found himself. He then staggered Jackson with a left hook to the jaw and drove him to his corner with a body attack.

Jackson had the advantage in the first three rounds. White took the fourth. The fifth and sixth were even and all the others went to White. White weighed 135 pounds, Jackson 124.

Jenny Leonard, lightweight champion, recently signed articles to meet the winner of the match in a title bout.

Carl Tremaine, of Cleveland, bantamweight, tonight knocked out Harold Faresse, of Jersey City, in the third round of their eight round bout.

In another preliminary, Duff Tomberg, New York middleweight, was given the judges' decision after eight rounds with Augie Ratner, also of New York.
